

I am strongly apposed to allowing further consolidation in the communications corporate structure. As it is, the news is severely compromised by corporate interests. As a citizen, I feel deprived of essential information needed to participate effectively as a citizen and so essential to keep this democracy vital. The more consolidation the more we resemble a "Big brother" society.